A capitalist, of New York, had an architect to draw plans for the erection of a building 200 stories high, which will be the most tremendous building on earth. It is to be called The King building, and will have 120,000 square feet of space on each floor; 24,000,000 square feet in all.

It will contain 10,000 separate offices, and will accommodate, in all, 400,000 people under one roof.

—The services at Salem, closed Sunday night.

Unusual interest was manifested during the entire meeting. Bro. Carmack returned home Monday morning after forming many acquaintances and friends, who will ever remember the impressive sermons he delivered, while with us.

We will pay you the following prices for eggs 8c, turkeys 5c per lb, ducks 6, hens 5.

J. E. Burghier, jr.
